

Dear Friends

I do hope that you are well and enjoying the glories of Spring, when you can see them through the waterfalls of rain!

Yesterday marked three years since I started as Transitional Minister of Central Church, Swindon. It is amazing to think that we were still unable to meet up in person at that time. The church didn't livestream their services and so that first service, written out in full, was sent to people by email or post! I have thoroughly enjoyed the experience of leading a town centre church for the first time in my ministry. It is good to see congregations growing and it has been amazing to see the work that is done amongst the homeless and food poor. Breakfast is now served every day and two Saturdays ago 131 people were fed. Meanwhile, the new evening Bible Study is going well and has established itself as a much-appreciated part of church life.

I am also glad to be supporting Woodley Baptist Church as their Moderator. Last month I chaired a Church Members' Meeting at which we agreed to start our search for a full-time minister. I am delighted that they are in this position and I do commend the church to any of you who are ministers, or who know ministers who are considering a move. The church is right at the heart of a large community, and there is a very loving and united fellowship that is eager to move forward. They have excellent modern buildings in the centre of the community. This is an exciting moment for the church.

On a completely different note, the antique centres where I sell postcards and stamps have reduced by one over the past month. Sadly, the owner of the Newbury antique centre building has decided to turn it into residential accommodation. So I am now down to just eight centres. They are all doing well and this continues to be a very pleasant and enjoyable aspect of my life.

If you haven't written for a while, do please let me know how you are. It's always a pleasure to hear your news.

Thanks as ever for your interest and prayers.

Yours ever,

Jonathan
